

Ultimate Performance for Elite Iron Sound Suppressors

For Direct thread models:

BRAVO, SIERRA, ALPHA, WINDTALKER AMF

All models have 100% repeatability whether the suppressor is timed to the weapon or not. If the shooter would like to minimize the horizontal point of impact shift when shooting suppressed, the Elite Iron name should be top dead center when suppressor is installed on weapon. (Plus or minus 10 degrees). If this is not the case, an experienced gunsmith or machinist can reface the mounting surface of the threaded barrel for this optional timing procedure.

SPECIAL NOTE: Do not use any type of washers or shims when mounting the suppressor to your weapon.

If further information is needed for above procedures please call
